- Contents: A vertical list of thumbnails on the left side, including 'African Buffalo', 'Lion', 'rhinoceros', 'The tiger', and a horse. The 'African Buffalo' item is currently selected.
- Image: A large central image of an African Buffalo in a savanna setting. The title 'African Buffalo' is centered above the image.
- Descriptive Information: A panel on the right side containing the following metadata:
 - Title: The wild life in Africa
 - Material Type: Book
 - Creator: Wile life Africa
 - Subject: Digital items loaded to Amazon
 - Date: 1941

Rethinking Digital Resource Management

One of Australia's original tertiary institutions, with an international reputation for excellence in professional and vocational education, applied research, and engagement with industry and the community.

A single interface and integrated management of all source material - electronic, print and digital

Library staff needs minimal training, as the same intuitive process applies to all collections

Analytics and reporting are constructive and easy to use, incorporating key usage data

Breaking down collection silos with greater clarity and coherence

Digitization of specific collections included cataloguing objects, providing meta data, and conversion

Enabling the best use of funds and helping meet industry benchmarks

Flexible configuration of automated workflows made librarians rethink management of academic resources

"Bulk ingest" mode enables uploading multiple files with a single click, cutting load times

Library staff are actively encouraging more digitization among all university faculties

"Our staff is really enjoying working with a fully integrated product."

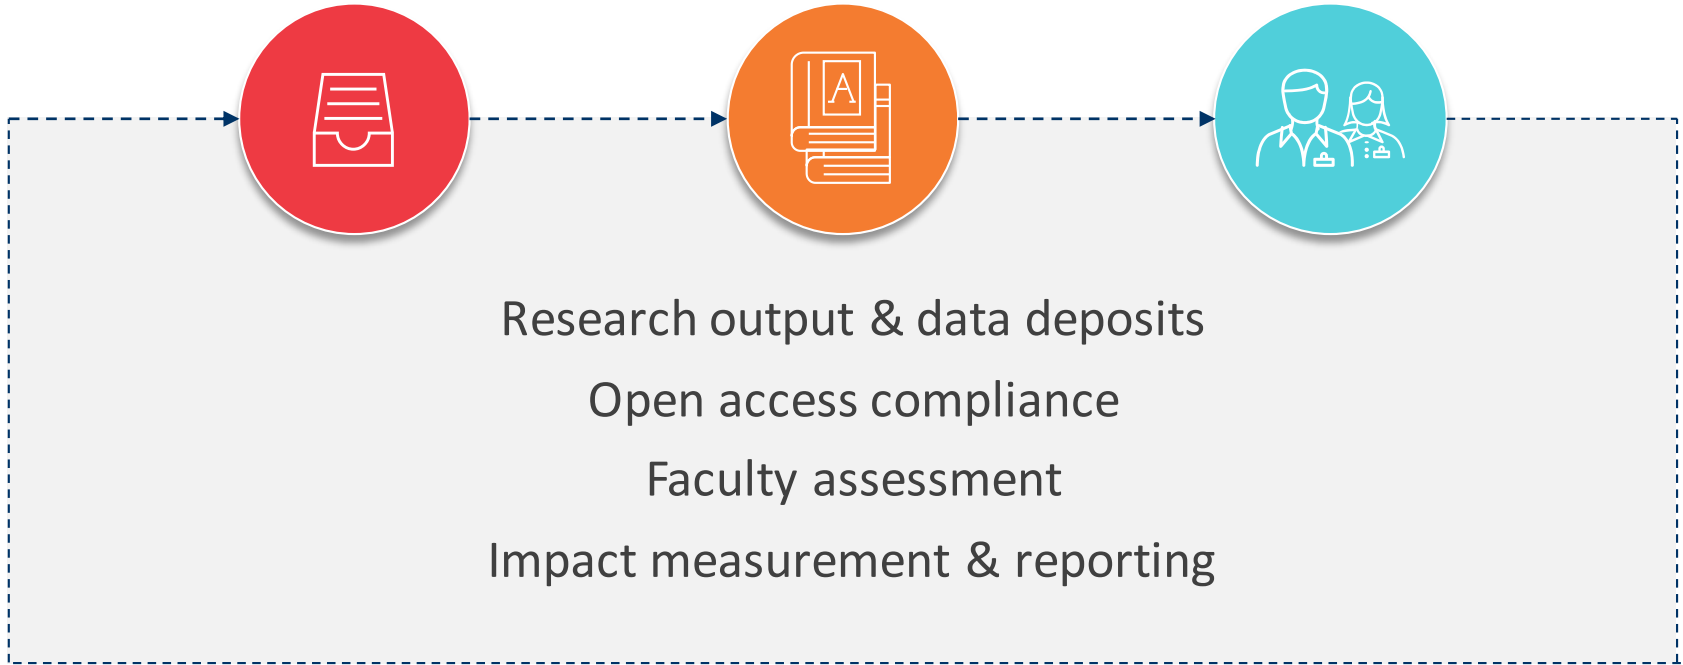

- Stephen Gillespie, Associate Director for Library Resources, RMIT University
